*From Labor Day to Memorial Day

Countdown to May 1st

Our library community is growing! On May 1, we're joining the SWAN library consortium (<https://www.swanlibraries.net/>). Below is important information to share about this journey.

April 18 through May 1, 2018 – Partial Catalog Freeze: During this period, our library cannot add new material.

April 28 through May 1, 2018 – Data Migration

The MAGIC library catalog data is transferring to the SWAN catalog between April 28 – May 1. The online public access catalog will be accessible for browsing only. Staff is using an off-line circulation system, so your activity is not reflected in My Account in the online catalog. Please bring your library card for checkouts for a smoother experience during migration.

Here's a list of what's happening during these migration days:

April 28 – May 1
NOTE: Please do not return library materials between April 27 and May 1. There will be no scheduled due dates during this time.
Services Available	Temporarily Suspended Due to Data Migration
Search for materials in the online catalog	See availability of materials in the online catalog
Pick up holds if you have already been notified	Place holds
	Log in to My Account
	Pay bills
Check out materials (please bring library card)	Check items in
Access e-resources like OverDrive, Axis360, and Hoopla through those apps/websites	Download electronic materials or place holds directly from the library's online catalog
	Receive materials delivered from another library
	Renew materials (auto-renewals will be suspended for these dates, but will resume on May 1)

Thank you for your patience and understanding with this tremendous undertaking. When we go live with the new system, services will be restored and you'll be able to see library material from almost 100 libraries.
